PLEASE NOTE:

- 1. Group videos and photos of classes performing in concerts, on field trips, or doing whole-class activities presents problems in limiting individual students from photos and videos. It may mean that if a parent has concerns for their child, that the child will need to always stand on the end during concert line-ups (so they can be cropped out), or the child may need to step back when a group photo is taken during special events or activities.*
- 2. Federal law prohibits students from taking photos and videos on school property unless they have express permission from the teacher or are in a CHS-sponsored club or activity which requires them to take photos (such as yearbook or photography club).*
- 3. The school cannot control third party videos and photos taken by parents, grandparents, volunteers, at school-related events when guests are invited for class performances, field trips, concerts, etc.*
